

WHAT HAPPENS IN VEGAS DOESN'T STAY THERE

The 27th Annual Women in the Green Industry Conference (WIGI) returns this September with three days of inspiration, education and empowerment in Las Vegas. What's learned at WIGI doesn't stay in Vegas — it comes back in stronger leadership, smarter strategy and the kind of confidence that drives real impact across your team and your business. This year's sessions will cover industry trends, business growth, professional development and wellness.

ARE YOU A WOMAN IN THE GREEN INDUSTRY? We're not just part of the industry. We're shaping its future. At WIGI, you'll connect with women who lead, share boldly and lift each other up. This isn't just a conference. WIGI is a sisterhood—and it's waiting for you.

ARE YOU A BUSINESS OWNER OR MANAGER? Support the women on your team by investing in their growth. They'll return from WIGI with new skills, confidence and connections that strengthen your entire business.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

WIGI is designed for women in the green industry including business owners, office managers, purchasing agents, installers and crew members. It's ideal for anyone looking to grow their business, build new connections and strengthen professional relationships.
